

November 9, 2010

We are pleased to announce that Accolade - Architecture + Design + Construction has moved its offices to a more convenient location, in the heart of Coconut Grove, Florida and that Accolade's "Dream Home" Team of Jorge L. Esteban and Henrique Chor have recently acquired full control of Accolade in order to focus their energies exclusively on what they love to do and do best: design, build and remodel luxury homes.

Award-winning architect Jorge L. Esteban, Accolade's Chief of Architecture & Design, and accomplished builder Henrique Chor, Accolade's Chief of Construction, first established their working relationship at Breakstone Homes in 2002, which later became Accolade Companies, a group of companies involved in a variety of real estate activities. Since then they have designed and constructed many of South Florida's most elite luxury homes in exclusive neighborhoods such as: Star Island, Golden Beach, Coral Gables, Miami Beach and the award winning Smathers Four Fillies Farm in the Village of Pinecrest.

Under Esteban and Chor's full control, and from their friendlier new home in the Grove, Accolade will be able to deliver even more of the extraordinary architecture, consulting, construction and interior design services, with the personal attention and detail that have earned them many "Accolades" through the years and that their clients have come to expect.

Sincerely,

The Accolade Team
